SUBJECT: RACKETEER INFLUENCED AND CORRUPT ORGANIZATIONS MATTERS

Organized crime infiltration of legitimate businesses has been designated as a target under the Bureau's National Organized Crime Program. Over the years, many types of product and service businesses in Chicago have been linked with the hoodlum element. Most notable is the vending and juke box industry, where organized crime appears to have achieved a level of pre-eminence from the standpoint of infiltration and control. Long-time Chicago hoodlums, including [redacted] LOUIE "The Mooch" EBOLI, EDDIE VOGEL (deceased), CHUCK ENGLISH, GUS ALEX, [redacted], [redacted] have operated and controlled the vending and juke box industry. b6 b7C

Consistent with the Bureau's investigative mandates, the following are being targeted for investigation under the RICO Statute:

Subject is a known LCN member in the Chicago, Illinois area, and has for a number of years operated All American Amusement Company, which deals in supplying vending machines for bars, restaurants and other types of businesses. Past investigations indicate that Eboli has been involved in loan sharking and illegal gambling activities.

Recent information indicates that Eboli is moving up in the ranks of the LCN and that funds obtained through criminal activity may be filtered through All American Amusement Company.

LOUIS ANTHONY EBOLI

Criminal History

LOUIE EBOLI, an LCN member, was born LUIGI EBOLI 43 years ago and came into the Chicago LCN family with impeccable credentials inasmuch as his father, THOMAS VITO MICHAEL EBOLI (now deceased), also known as "TONNY RYAN", was at one time acting head of the GENOVESE family in New York. EBOLI evidently felt himself to be rather privileged because in early 1962 he, joined two other LCN figures, [redacted] and GUY CERVONE, in administering a severe beating to two citizens who were thought to be cheating on pinball machines; they beat them up with baseball bats. Subsequent trial resulted in acquittals. b6 b7C

As of November, 1964, EBOLI was characterized as a "juice man", who frequented the Comeback Restaurant in Melrose Park, Illinois, and who was connected with juke boxes in that city. In was reported that [redacted] another well-known LCN figure, was [redacted]

In April, 1965, EBOLI was reportedly ejected from the Sportsmans Park Race Track as being "undesirable - indicted for baseball bat beating", and even then he was further characterized as servicing pinball machines in the Northlake, Illinois area.

As of March, 1966, EBOLI was gaining the reputation of being instrumental in the distribution of football parlay cards in the LCN dominated community of Melrose Park, Illinois. Then in January, 1967, EBOLI's reputation had expanded and he was touted as the "outfit chieftan" in Stone Park, Illinois, noting that he had all of the pinball machines, pool table, and cigarette machines in Joe's Place (former Halfway House) in Northlake, Illinois. EBOLI was said to control the Chief of Police in Stone Park, who was purportedly handpicked by the LCN family.

As of January, 1967, EBOLI was alleged to be employed for GUIDO DE CHIARO in the operation of M&D Music, 2908 Commerce, Franklin Park, Illinois. Later, he was listed as one of the officers (Secretary) of the Tri Bee Supply Company in Melrose Park, Illinois, along with [redacted] b6 b7C

Finally, in more recent years, information has been developed that perhaps EBOLI has finally "earned his spurs" with what was once considered the supreme test. It has been reported that EBOLI was perhaps the one who planned the execution of former LCN member, CHARLES NICOLETTI, himself a renowned "hit man". However, EBOLI's motives allegedly had nothing to do with family membership; rather, it is believed EBOLI suspected NICOLETTI of having killed his father in New York several years ago. At any rate, EBOLI is now said to own The Stone Cottage located at Route 83 and North Avenue in either Villa Park or Elmhurst, Illinois, which place is regularly visited by some of the elite from the Chicago LCN family.

[redacted] has identified EBOLI as a member of the Chicago "family" of the LCN. b7D

Eboli was then asked about the killings of William Petrocelli, Nick Velentyas and Angelo Bruno. On May 4, 1981, [redacted] furnished the following information to Special Agent (SA) [redacted]

Louis Eboli was recently seen with someone from out of town. The individual, [redacted] was supposed to be here from Miami. [redacted] was around during the last two weeks of April. LOUIS EBOLI, ETAL
DBA All American Amusement Company

On September 5, 1981, [redacted] was contacted by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and advised as follows:

[redacted] recently ran a small independent cigarette vending machine company. Recently, [redacted] who is a partner of [redacted], doing business as (dba) [redacted] instructed [redacted] to remove some of his machines from certain stops. Informant had the impression that [redacted] compensated [redacted] by giving him other stops in exchange. [redacted] then replaced [redacted] machines with cigarette vending machines from [redacted] said "Don't worry, it [redacted] will still be me." The informant inferred from this remark that [redacted] now has an interest in or ownership of [redacted].

b7D

(Note: Due to SIN ~~irre~~gular nature of the preceding information, absolutely no investigation regarding it should be conducted without first contacting SA [redacted])

Informant said that although Louis Eboli's vending business is primarily in game or pin ball type machines, there is some overlap (Eboli also has some game machines), and consequently, some degree of rivalry or competition between Eboli and [redacted] Informant suggested this occasionally causes some friction between the two groups.

The informant said that illegal use of game machines is accomplished in the following way. A currently popular game machine is a poker game machine, on which the player is credited with points as he plays. The points are registered on a meter right on the machine. When the player accumulates over 60 points on the machine, the bar owner then pays the player, usually at the rate of .25¢ per point. A basic rule is that the bar owner never pays someone he does not know, since payouts are illegal. Periodically, the vending machine routemen service the machines by verifying the point totals, reimbursing the bar owner for payouts made to players, and then splitting the money in the game machine 50-50 between the vending machine company and the bar owner.

The informant said, in his opinion, a new bar owner who does not have any vending machines would not have to reach out to the vending machine companies for machines. The companies are very competitive and would approach the new bar owner fairly soon.

(1) - 183-527

The informant said, to his knowledge, the entire vending machine industry in the western suburbs is LCN dominated. Routes and stops are jealously guarded against non-LCN penetration. [redacted] the informant said the vending machine business is an extremely important source of revenue for the LCN. b6 b7C b7D

The informant said that in subruban towns where vending machines are not allowed, the LCN will approach a town official and cut him in for a percentage of revenues in exchange for the official's sponsorship of legislation leagalizing the machines. The informant has heard that the LCN is trying to introduce their machines in Broadview, Illinois, and he speculated that Broadview officials will be approached.

On July 21, 1981, [redacted] advised Special Agent (SA) [redacted] that an adult book store had opened on the west side of Mannheim Road south of the "Smokers Club". Source stated that Louie "The Mooch" Eboli has been seen there quite a bit, and because of this the rumor persists the Eboli has a "piece" of that place. Source has also heard that there is a telephone at that location which is being used for bookmaking purposes. However, source has not been able to confirm this point. b6 b7C b7D

Source stated that there are quite a few locations along Mannheim Road between Route 64 and Irving Park Road, that are running "cat houses", that is; houses of prostitution. Source identified some of these as fronting as book stores and other as fronting as bars featuring nude dancers. Among the specific places identified by source were the "Smoker's Club" which has a book store on the north side of the building and on the south side of the building is a private club area where booths with women are available. Another club is called the Club Taray, this one is located on the west side of Mannheim Road around the 2500 block. The Club Taray is a bar featuring nude dancers and, when not dancing, the dancers solicit drinks and/or solicit for acts of prostitution with the customers. Directly across the street from the Club Taray is another bar featuring nude dancers called "My Place". Source stated that the dancers from the Club Taray also work at "My Place" and can be seen crossing the street for that purpose. There is also a bar next to the previously mentioned book store. This is also located on the west side of Mannheim Road and it is south of the Club Taray. This bar is being used as a meeting place by prostitutes looking for customers, but the activity at this bar is not nearly as great as the other previously mentioned establishments. There is also an old motor inn now believed to be a motel for transiants which is located immediately south of the Club Taray and also on the west side of Mannheim Road.

This old motor inn now accomodates "street walkers" and their activity is quite obvious, that is; they can be seen walking along Mannheim Road and then entering the aforementioned motor inn with a "john".

Source stated that Louie Eboli is believed to be handling the Outfit's control of prostitution in the aforementioned clubs along Mannheim Road. It is believed that the Chicago Outfit extracts a percentage each month from all "independent" prostitution and/or pornography operations.

On August 24, 1981, [redacted] was contacted by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and he advised that in regard to the recent murder of Tommy Mock, he believes a possible motive for that murder may have been that Tommy Mock was beating up people who frequented his tavern in Stone Park. Source stated that Mock had owned a tavern near the OB Tavern in Stone Park. The OB Tavern is located across from the Harvester plant in Stone Park. [redacted] and Mock had been arguing for at least the last eight months. Source noted that [redacted] is very close to Louie "The Mooch" Eboli and it is felt by this source that you don't touch [redacted] or talk about him without Louie "shuting you up". b6 b7C b7D

Source pointed out that Tom Mock owned at least one horse with [redacted] and that [redacted] and Mock were very close friends. However, [redacted] according to this source, takes his orders from Louie "The Mooch". Source has heard that the detective assigned to work this murder case is Detective [redacted] and this source suspects that [redacted] was probably hand picked by Louie Eboli to work this case. Source has also heard that Mock had recently acquired the "Stable Club" a restaurant and tavern located in Stone Park on Lake Street, just east of Mannheim Road. b6 b7C b7D

On October 24, 1983, [redacted] was contacted by SA [redacted] and source provided the following information regarding Louis Eboli: b6 b7C b7D

Source stated that Eboli is married to an Italian woman and while there were some rumors that they were having marital problems, these are the type that many families have and the marriage is in no serious jeopardy. Source noted they have been married a long time. Louis Eboli presently still owns All American Amusement which maintains an address in Franklin Park but which source believes is actually located in River Grove and has more recently been getting involved in video stores. Eboli lives at 241 Silver Lane, Winston Park (which is a Melrose Park subdivision).

Eboli hangs out at a private club just north of the Stone Park Police Department and many other lounges in the Melrose Park area, including Tom's Steak House and Rocky's.

Eboli also makes frequent trips to Florida.

Most of the people Eboli currently is associating with are Cerone's people. He does see Tony Spilotro when Spilotro is in the Chicago area.

Source believes Eboli has three children, two boys and one girl. Source thinks the oldest is [redacted], who is about 20 years old and whom source believes is in college.

On August 2, 1982, [redacted] furnished the following information to SA [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Informant reported that a porno book store is currently being operated on North Avenue, west of Route 83, on the south side of the street, a couple of doors east of a Car X place. It should be noted that this location would probably be physically located in Villa Park, Illinois (or possibly Elmhurst, Illinois).

Informant advised that on Monday, August 2, 1982, he observed two regular habitues from the Melrose Park Social and Athletic Club (SAC) located at 25th and Lake in Melrose Park, frequent the above-mentioned porno shop. Informant advised that he recognized both of these men as daily habitues of the SAC Club, but he does not know their names or identities.

Informant theorized that perhaps Louie "The Mooch" Eboli might have a piece of this porno book store since Eboli has a place of business, The Stone Cottage, at this same intersection (North Avenue and Route 83). Informant noted, however, that he does not believe The Stone Cottage is opened for business at the present time, but rather that it is closed for remodeling purposes.

[redacted] residence address [redacted] [redacted] Illinois, telephone number [redacted] was interviewed concerning the burglary of her residence and she furnished the following information:

[redacted] related the burglary of her residence occurred on Monday, October 31, 1977, between 10:00 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. The initial loss was estimated in excess of $100,000.00. A subsequent re-evaluation, however, determined the loss was more accurately estimated in the area of $45,000 to $50,000. None of the merchandise was insured. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] reviewed a photostated booklet of Bing and Grondhol porcelain figurines. She stated the items previously circled and/or check marked on the photostat indicated merchandise that was taken in the burglary. [redacted] further reviewed this booklet and made additional circle notations in pencil indicating other items also taken in the burglary that were not previously so noted.

Regarding the other items taken in the burglary, [redacted] stated the Oak Park Police Department (OPPD) theft report accurately enumerates and describes the stolen property. She added almost all the jewelry had some engraved inscriptions and the porcelain figurines were designed by ALEX LORCHER. Regarding the fur coats, she stated they were accurately described in the OPPD theft inventory.

[redacted] related on the morning of the burglary she departed her residence shortly before 10:00 a.m. Just prior to her departure she received a telephone call from [redacted] LAST NAME UNKNOWN (LNU). [redacted] said [redacted] (LNU) ostensibly telephoned her to apologize for the behavior of [redacted] on the previous evening and also to inquire if [redacted] had returned home from school. arrived at that time.

[redacted] stated at approximately 10:15 a.m., while at work, she received a second telephone call from [redacted] (LNU) who again inquired about the arrival of her daughter [redacted] said she reiterated to [redacted] (LNU) that her daughter had not arrived home.

At approximately 10:30 a.m., [redacted] said her daughter stopped at [redacted] en route home to borrow her mother's auto. [redacted] said her daughter arrived at their residence shortly after 10:30 a.m. and she entered the residence through the front door. Upon entering through the front door, [redacted] said her daughter observed clothes hangers strewn on the floor and the front hall closet door was open. [redacted] said her daughter also heard noises upstairs indicating someone entered their residence. Her daughter fled the residence and returned to her [redacted] place of employment, from where they notified the OPPD. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised after the police had secured her residence she entered and confirmed there was in fact a burglary. She related forced entry was effected through the side entrance which was locked when she departed the residence earlier that morning.

Regarding her association with [redacted] advised she has known [redacted] for about [redacted] She was introduced to [redacted] through [redacted] and mutual friend, [redacted] A friendship between [redacted] developed since [redacted] was selling expensive women's clothing at substantially reduced prices. [redacted] said she did not initially know [redacted] last name since she [redacted] was introduced as [redacted] related, however, she later heard [redacted] also uses the last names of [redacted] as well. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] said she and her daughter had gone to [redacted] the [redacted] residence, on a number of occasions to buy merchandise. She reported on a number of these occasions she saw [redacted] at the residence but she did not know he was [redacted] husband. She related the age difference between he and [redacted] made her incorrectly assume a different family relationship existed. [redacted] stated it was not until she saw the news media coverage regarding [redacted] murder trial in May, 1977, that she realized he was [redacted] husband.

[redacted] related [redacted] frequently pressed her [redacted] for introductions to her friends. [redacted] said she mistakenly purported to [redacted] that she was financially well-off when this is not actually the case. [redacted] did introduce a few friends to [redacted] She knows some of these acquaintances did purchase merchandise from [redacted] LNU. [redacted] said she believes most of her friends introduced to [redacted] and [redacted] LNU have had no further contacts with them.

In addition to the [redacted] residence in [redacted] and [redacted] LNU's residence on [redacted] also in [redacted] said there were other residence locations in [redacted] from which merchandise was sold. She was made aware of these other locations through conversation with [redacted] On a few occasions she went to [redacted] LNU's residence accompanied by [redacted] or [redacted] On other occasions she usually went alone or with her daughter or friends. Sometimes these locations were very crowded with prospective buyers, both men and women.

The merchandise available for sale was predominantly women's clothing but she said [redacted] was also able to obtain men's wear on request. The merchandise had no designer or manufacturer's label. Each item had a price tag attached.

She recalled observing price tags indicating the retail store as Goldwater's of Arizona and Nieman-Marcus of Los Angeles, California. Most of the women's merchandise was mainly for the average to small size woman. She noted much of the merchandise was limited as far as size, style and color selections, but she related [redacted] frequently indicated she could obtain a special order to accomodate a customer. [redacted] stated the merchandise was sold for one-half the tagged price. Twenty percent discounts off this price were provided by [redacted] o personal acquaintances. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] was asked if she knew the merchandise was stolen. She stated no one ever told her the merchandise was stolen and she never inquired concerning the source of the items. [redacted] said she conjectured the items were stolen in view of the inexpensive price when compared to the quality of the garments and also the limited supply as to size, color and style.

[redacted] related her suspicions about buying the merchandise were somewhat allayed when she learned that police officers from various suburban police departments and their wives, as well as influential state senators, were also buying the merchandise indicating to her the outlet was legitimate.

Regarding [redacted] LNU's residence on [redacted] stated this residence is a frame structure on the [redacted] She added the address could possibly be [redacted] b6 b7C b7D
